

Rutland Water Nature Reserve's Volunteer Training Centre

How to find us

LE15 8AD

We're a very new building so please be aware that when using your Sat Nav you might not be taken to the building itself. The Volunteer Training Centre does not appear on any online maps yet.

If travelling by car you are likely to come via either the A6003 or A606. As you approach Oakham follow signs for Hambleton Village.

If you come off at the A606 take the second right turn off the Hambleton Road

If you come via the A6003 follow the road to the roundabout joining the A606 and turn right towards Stamford. Then take the right turn to Hambleton and then the second right turn (just before you reach a small thatched hut on your left).

Your Sat Nav might encourage you to take the earlier right turn to the Birdwatching Centre, in which case you will find yourself driving through the village of Egleton.

Follow church road towards Hambleton, turn right, and then take the next turning on the right (just before you reach a small thatched hut on your left).
